

Abstract of the Disclosure

A system and method for presenting at least two recognition elements to represent a progressive or cumulative achievements. The recognition elements may be awarded to an individual, group, or team. The recognition elements may be in numerous shapes, sizes, and materials. The recognition elements may have textual recognition (such as markings, engravings, and embossing) on one or more surfaces of the recognition element. The recognition elements may be marked, engraved, and embossed with a combination of text, symbols, figures, and/or images. The recognition elements may be placed together to form predetermined forms or may be arranged by a recipient of the recognition elements into various forms. In addition, the recognition elements may be placed in a retention structure. The retention structure may be expandable.